Hello Again From All in One Support!

Thanks to some unforeseen circumstances, we bring you the NEW (and improved) All in One Support Newsletter. Thanks to all for your patience in getting this ready. We appreciate the continued support from our customers and we hope to keep you updated on enhancements and challenges with today's technology.

This summer we are looking to work with the local community more by offering services like the upcoming "Electronics Disposal Day". It should be exciting and clear out some much needed space in the garage!!

Stay tuned and there is more to come.

NEWS

Who's Interested in an iPad?

The Apple iPad was the most anticipated new computing device of the new decade, primarily because it rethinks the design and interface of the PC. This tablet computer is the first touch-based tablet to hit the mass market, and its ease of use is its primary selling point.

There have been tablet computers (Hewlett-Packard) since Microsoft unveiled its Tablet PC platform back in 2001. At that time, Microsoft Chairman Bill Gates said of the tablet, "It's a PC that is virtually without limits and within five years I predict it will be the most popular form of PC sold in America."

Here's a review that should answer most of your questions.

TIPS

Use Keyboard Shortcuts in Word 2007 Without Memorizing Them

If you prefer using the keyboard to perform actions rather than the mouse or touchpad, you will like the Key Tips feature in Microsoft Word 2007. Unlike other keyboard shortcuts which must be memorized to use (such as Ctrl + C to copy and Ctrl + V to paste), Key Tips do not require memorization.

Pressing the Alt key on the keyboard displays numerous options on the ribbon.

Press the appropriate key for the desired menu, quick access option, or tab.

REMINDERS

Burdened by constant infection? Here are some key areas to check to see if you have any other unwanted software running:

1. Msconfig - startup processes (start, run...)
2. Run ccleaner - removes temporary internet folders
3. Run malwarebytes - quick scan is good enough
4. Delete everything in "C:\Windows\Prefetch" folder (don't do this very often)
5. Delete items from the startup folder in the start menu

These spots can help bring your PC back to its normal fast self.
